

Emily Musolino: Short Bio

EMILY MUSOLINO is a singer-songstress, producer and multi-instrumentalist from Durham, NC. Her music is a mix of soul, rock and blues that has been described as a "Soul Diva Mind Explosion." The depth of emotion in her voice is stunning and she shreds the blues guitar like nobody's business.

A Berklee College of Music graduate, Emily has performed, recorded and collaborated with various local and nationally-recognized artists, including Vinx, Shelley Nicole, Shana Tucker, Anna Wise (SonnyMoon, Kendrick Lamar, Cunnylinguists) and Eric Hirsh (The Beast, Orquesta GarDel, Eric Hirsh Quartet).

Emily released her newest album "Jealous Girl" in November of 2014. She is also the newest member of Dark Water Rising, a Pembroke based 'rocky soul' band fronted by American Idol semi-finalist Charly Lowry.

Emily has been featured on NPR's the State of Things with Frank Stasio and Durham's own Clarion Content. She currently fronts the Emily Musolino Band and regularly performs as both bandleader and soloist around the country.
